About Maine Audubon

Maine Audubon is the state’s oldest and largest wildlife conservation organization. Since 1843, we have been connecting people to nature through a science-based approach to conservation, education, and advocacy. The largest Maine-based wildlife conservation organization, Maine Audubon has eight wildlife sanctuaries, 10,000 members, 2,000 volunteers, and serves over 50,000 people annually.

With the help of our volunteers, members and supporters, we protect Maine’s wildlife and habitat, conserve and restore resilient land, advocate for impactful environmental policies, offer education programs for adults and children, and provide endless opportunities to experience the outdoors at our wildlife sanctuaries.
